

President
Comes to Male High School!!!!

Today on January 24, 1996 in Male High School students talked about President Clinton. Carl Cline, a sophomore, who says "It's a good idea." Also Lenisha White said, "I feel it's a very unique exciting experience, because meeting or even hearing the President of the United States of America speak is a once in a lifetime opportunity."

After the last period of school was President Clinton's speech. They got so excited that they left in about 10 seconds. There was a huge line waiting to get in.

There were 8 satellite trucks and were more when Clinton came. It was not a pleasant day for him.

President Clinton arrived at Kentucky in Air Force 1 about 1:15. He went to the police station first and then Male High School for his speech. My guess was about 20 times they interrupted Clinton by clapping their hands. There were three sections you can go into. There are the stage area where you sit right behind him, the auditorium where you sit right in front of him, and the large gym where you watch him on the big screen.

Mostly President Clinton talked about crime. There were a lot of TV reporters in the middle of the auditorium. I saw the secret service people who have a little wire in the ear that connects to a radio. One reason they have this is because they don't want President Clinton to get shot. To get in you had to have a ticket and you had to go through a metal detector and put cameras, purses, and keys to be inspected. If you have a gun the alarm will go off.

The governor of Kentucky was there with President Clinton signing autographs. And while people were trying to shake hands with the President I got squashed. I had to step over seats to shake his hand. I finally got a picture of him and shook his hand.
